

CHEVRON INNOVATION PROGRAM WEBSITE TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF USE

Last modified: January 1, 2026

Thank you for visiting this website (the "Website"), operated and provided to you solely for informational purposes by Chevron Mediterranean Limited, ("Company", "us", "we").

1. GENERAL

- 1.1. These terms and conditions of use (the "Terms") govern the relationship between the Company and any person (the "User" or "you") who browses or uses the Website, its content and any other webpages owned and/or operated by us that link back to, or otherwise display, these Terms. The browsing and using the Website shall be deemed an agreement of the User to all the terms and conditions contained under these Terms. In case of contradiction or discrepancy between these Terms and other provisions published in any other media, these Terms shall prevail.
- 1.2. The Company retains the right to add, change, subtract and replace at any time the provisions of these Terms, in completely or in part, at its sole discretion, without prior consent of the Users. The binding version of these Terms shall be those appearing from time to time on the Website. It is the User's responsibility for keeping himself up to date with any changes and updates to these Terms. The continuance use of the Website by the User following changes to these Terms and their publication constitute evidence of the User's consent regarding the changes. The Company recommends that the User will review these Terms upon any use by him of this Website in order to review any changes that have been occurred (if any) to these Terms.

2. BACKGROUND AND USE

- 2.1. The Website is intended to provide information about the Chevron Studio program in Israel operated by the Company (the "Chevron Studio") which aims to bridge the gap between innovative applied research and real-world uses. In addition, the Website enables Users to submit applications to participate in the Chevron Studio program, either as researchers or entrepreneurs, in accordance with the instructions and eligibility criteria published on the Website.
- 2.2. Following the submission of an application to participate in the Chevron Studio program, the User may receive credentials to access a personal account on the Website (the "Personal Area"). Registration is not required for general browsing of the Website. Upon first login, the User will be required to authenticate using an email address and a unique password created by the User, which will serve for all activities within the Personal Area. Registration for the Personal Area may require providing accurate, current, and complete information as may be requested from time to time. Each time the User accesses the Personal Area, the User will be required to log in using the email address and password selected.
- 2.3. Once logged in, the User may access features available in the Personal Area, including viewing information relevant to the Chevron Studio program, tracking the status of the User's application, and any other functionalities provided by the Company. The User is solely responsible for maintaining the confidentiality and security of the username and password and shall not disclose them to any third party. The User must promptly notify the Company of any unauthorized use of the account so that appropriate measures can be taken. The Company shall not be liable for any damage or loss incurred by the User and/or anyone on the User's behalf in connection with the loss of the username and/or password or any unauthorized activities, except where such result from the Company's negligent act.

- 2.4. If the User forgets the password, the User may click the "Forgot Password" button and receive a password reset link sent to the email address registered in the Company's systems.
- 2.5. The Website and its contents are provided AS-IS for informational purposes only and do not create any obligation on the Company. The Company does not guarantee acceptance into the program, funding, or any form of partnership based on the information provided or the submission of an application through the Website. All decisions regarding participation in the program are made at the Company's sole discretion.
- 2.6. Please note additional terms and conditions may apply to participation in the Chevron Studio program, and all participation is subject to the execution of a separate agreement between the Company and the selected participant. Any grants, funding amounts, or other benefits described on the Website are indicative only and may be modified, reduced, or withdrawn at the Company's sole discretion. It is further understood that in case of any inconsistency between the agreements that a participant is required to sign and the information on the Website, the provisions of such agreements will govern and supersede any information, representation or understanding stated or implied on the Website.
- 2.7. The Company reserves the right to change, update, or modify the terms, conditions, and requirements of the Chevron Studio program from time to time, at its sole discretion, without prior notice. The Website may not always reflect the most current version of the Program terms. Applicants are responsible for contacting the Company to verify whether any changes have been made, and in any case, the agreement executed between the parties shall prevail and govern over any conflicting or inconsistent information presented on the Website. Without derogating from the foregoing, the content on the Website may also be updated or modified at any time without prior notice. The Company disclaims any representation or warranty, whether express or implied, regarding the accuracy, completeness, reliability, suitability, or timeliness of any content on the Website. The Website may contain inaccuracies or typographical errors, and the Company does not guarantee that the Website will be free from errors, defects, or interruptions.
- 2.8. By submitting any information, materials, or documents through the Website, you represent and warrant that: (a) all information provided by you is true, accurate, complete, and not misleading; (b) you have full rights, title, and authority to submit such information and materials; (c) the submission does not infringe or violate any intellectual property rights, privacy rights, or other rights of any third party; (d) you have obtained all necessary consents, approvals, and authorizations required under applicable law for such submission; and (e) you shall not submit any information that is unlawful, harmful, or otherwise inappropriate.
- 2.9. You further agree to comply with these Terms and all applicable local, state, national, and international laws, rules, and regulations.

RESTRICTIONS ON USE

The Company shall be entitled to prevent a User from making any use of the Website in any of the following cases:

1. The User has committed an illegal act and/or has violated the provisions of any applicable law;
2. The User violated any of the provisions of these Terms;
3. The User has committed an act or omission that may damage or harm the Company, its affiliates and/or anyone on its behalf and/or any third party, including other users of the Website or the proper operation of the Website.

The User undertakes not to link to the Website and/or to use it and/or the information, content, and services included therein for uploading, downloading, distributing, publishing or broadcasting of (a) information or other material in a manner that violates any rights, including intellectual property rights, privacy protection rights and/or any other proprietary rights; (b) information or other material that is illegal or prohibited for publication or use due to it constitutes a threat, damage, insult, libel, slander, racism or inappropriate content; (c) information or other material that includes a virus or other software that may damage the computer systems of the Company and/or any third parties or in a manner that may restrict or prevent others from using the Website; or (d) information or other material including advertising of any kind without prior written approval of the Company.

PRIVACY POLICY

Any details provided by the User as part or within the framework of the usage of the Website, including when submitting an application to participate in the Chevron Studio program or when using the "Contact Us" feature, and any other data that will be obtained or collected by the Company from the analysis of these details and information about the User that will come to the attention of the Company as part of the use of the Website are subject to the Company's Privacy Policy.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS

All intellectual property rights (of all kinds), including trademarks, trade secrets and copyrights, whether or not registered, in the Website or in any part of it, including (but not limited to): content, design, software, application, computer code, graphics file, text and all other materials included in the Website, whether by external interface, by source code or by target code – is exclusively owned by the Company and/or any of its affiliates or related entities and/or Chevron Studio, and/or third parties, as applicable, and it shall be protected by the Israeli copyrights law, international covenants and other countries copyrights law, as applicable.
